

Appendix 2

Sources and Acknowledgements

The information presented herein is derived from a variety of sources such as the National Archives, published histories, and documentation provided by Hq1 veterans or their families.

A major source of information for augmenting the “memoirs” of the Hq1 men was the collator’s personal knowledge of the men, and his personal records.

The National Archives at College Park, MD provided a particularly lucrative source of information for the album. The archives are comprehensive. The facility is staffed with friendly, knowledgeable, helpful people - if the information you seek exists they will find it.

Especially helpful were the after-action reports prepared by the 508th Parachute Infantry Regiment’s senior commanders. These reports were prepared following each major campaign, and reflect the personal perspectives of the individual commanders.

The primary source of information for Chapters I & II is the History of the 508th Parachute Infantry by William G. Lord, II, published by the Battery Press, Nashville, Tennessee.

Bill Lord served as a Lieutenant in the regiment during WW II and authored several historical documents for and about the regiment. Many of the photos presented in these chapters and in selected memoirs were scanned from Bill Lord’s book.

Warren Brown and Jim Wynne provided copies of the Hq1 company picture taken at Blanding and Mackall. The individual photos accompanying the memoirs were scanned from these pictures. Thanks gents.

Many people contributed information, advice and encouragement for the development of this album, and we are grateful. The collator would like to thank everyone for his or her assistance and contributions

The summaries presented in Chapter VI - Augmented Memoirs were developed from contributions submitted by the following Hq1 veterans and family members:

Appendix 2

Sources and Acknowledgements

Kenneth (Rock) Merritt, and Lawrence Fitzpatrick [Hq1's two most decorated men], Warren Brown, Myrtle Lowder, Alice Hummel, Laura Palmer, William Goudy, James McMahon, David Jones, Alice Foster, John Boone, Dorothy Hull, William Frickel, Donna Booth, Elizabeth Farrell, Van Walker, Raymond Kennedy, Owen B. Hill, Charles Turley, James Wynne, Thomas Broderick, Joe Bressler, Grady Murray, Pearl Tharaldson, Dana Pearson and Garfield Wilkinson II, Michael Wargo, Robert Shields, Marion and Jim Cuddeback, Keith Christen, Allyn Johnson, Arthur Jacoby, Fran Labate, and William Winkler. Thanks, everyone.

The collator is especially indebted for the technical advice, editing, suggestions, harassment and encouragement so freely provided by his daughters Maureen Stoeckert and Amelia (Amy) Valentini.

Shirley Stoeckert's supervision, contributions and helpful criticism assured us that we were on track and developing a reasonably acceptable album.

The untiring efforts and patient assistance of these ladies during the album developing process was immeasurable and appreciated beyond words. Especially now that it is done. Thanks, ladies and everyone else, you did good!